The subordinated notes will mature on the stated maturity date, October 21, 2025. The subordinated notes are unsecured and rank junior in right of payment to The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc.'s senior debt. The subordinated notes have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 solely for the purpose of sales in the United States; they have not been and will not be registered for the purpose of any sales outside the United States.

The subordinated notes are not bank deposits and are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other governmental agency, nor are they obligations of, or guaranteed by, a bank.

Table of Contents

SPECIFIC TERMS OF THE SUBORDINATED NOTES

Please note that throughout this prospectus supplement, references to "The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc.", "we", "our" and "us" mean only The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. and do not include its consolidated subsidiaries. Also, references to "holders" mean The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") or its nominee and not indirect owners who own beneficial interests in subordinated notes through participants in DTC. Please review the special considerations that apply to indirect owners in the accompanying prospectus, under "Legal Ownership and Book-Entry Issuance".

The subordinated notes will be a series of subordinated debt securities issued under our subordinated debt indenture dated as of February 20, 2004 between us and The Bank of New York Mellon, as trustee, as supplemented by the ninth supplemental subordinated debt indenture thereto, dated as of May 20, 2015, as described below under "Additional Information about the Subordinated Notes." We refer to the securities issued under the subordinated debt indenture as the subordinated debt securities. This prospectus supplement summarizes specific financial and other terms that will apply to the subordinated notes; terms that apply generally to all of our debt securities are described in "Description of Debt Securities We May Offer" in the accompanying prospectus dated September 15, 2014. The terms described here supplement those described in the accompanying prospectus and, if the terms described here are inconsistent with those described there, the terms described here are controlling.

Holders of the subordinated notes may be fully subordinated to interests held by the U.S. government or other creditors in the event that we enter into a receivership, insolvency, liquidation or similar proceeding.

Table of Contents

- Defeasance: The subordinated notes are not subject to defeasance or covenant defeasance by us
- Additional amounts: We intend to pay principal and interest without deducting U.S. withholding taxes. If we are required to deduct U.S. withholding taxes from payment to non-U.S. investors, however, we will pay additional amounts on those payments, but only to the extent described in the accompanying prospectus under "Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Payment of Additional Amounts."
- Tax Redemption: We will have the option to redeem the subordinated notes before they mature (at par plus accrued and unpaid interest) if we become obligated to pay additional amounts because of changes in U.S. withholding tax requirements as described in the accompanying prospectus under "Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Redemption and Repayment — Tax redemption". For purposes of the first paragraph under "Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Redemption and Repayment — Tax redemption", the specified date (on or after which any such changes that may occur will give rise to our redemption right) is October 16, 2015.
- No other redemption: We will not be permitted to redeem the subordinated notes before their stated maturity, except as described above. The subordinated notes will not be entitled to the benefit of any sinking fund — that is, we will not deposit money on a regular basis into any separate custodial account to repay your note.
- Repayment at option of holder: None
- Subordination: The subordinated notes will be junior in right of payment to all of our senior debt. This means, among other things, that we will not be permitted to pay interest, principal or any other amount on the subordinated notes (including upon redemption) if a default under our senior debt has occurred and is continuing, until all the amounts owing on our senior debt have been paid in full. As described further under "Additional Information about the Subordinated Notes — Subordination Provisions", the ninth supplemental subordinated indenture to our subordinated debt indenture defines "senior debt" to include (i) all indebtedness and obligations of, or guaranteed or assumed by, The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. that are for borrowed money or evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes or other similar instruments, whether existing now or in the future, (ii) obligations of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. that are similar to those in clause (i) above and arise from off-balance sheet guarantees and direct credit substitutes, and (iii) all obligations of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. associated with derivative products such as interest rate and foreign exchange contracts, commodity contracts and similar arrangements. As of December 31, 2014, The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. had outstanding $170.8 billion of senior borrowings. "Senior debt" also includes similar obligations arising from off-balance sheet guarantees and direct credit substitutes, and obligations for claims in respect of derivative products, which are not included in such amount. For additional information about such other obligations, see our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014. Our subordinated debt indenture does not limit the amount of additional senior debt we may incur.
- Limited Events of Default; No Acceleration: The events of default under the subordinated notes will be limited to our filing for bankruptcy or the occurrence of other events of bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization relating to The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. The payment of principal of the subordinated notes may be accelerated only in certain events involving our bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization (but not the bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization of any of our subsidiaries). There will be no right of acceleration of the payment of principal of the subordinated notes upon a default in the payment of principal, interest or any other amount (including upon redemption) on the subordinated notes or in the performance of any of our covenants or agreements contained in the subordinated notes or in our subordinated debt indenture. No such payment or performance default will result in an event of default under the subordinated notes or permit any holders or the trustee to take action to enforce the subordinated notes or the subordinated debt indenture, except that a holder will be entitled at any time to bring a lawsuit for the payment of money due on the subordinated notes of such holder. The foregoing supersedes the information in “Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Default, Remedies and Waiver of Default” in the accompanying prospectus.

- CUSIP No.: 38141GVR2

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE SUBORDINATED NOTES

Subordination Provisions

The subordinated notes will be subordinate and junior in right of payment, to the extent and in the manner stated in the subordinated debt indenture, to all of our senior debt including all debt securities we have issued and will issue under either of our senior debt indentures and all warrants we will issue under the warrant indenture.

The ninth supplemental subordinated debt indenture to the subordinated debt indenture defines "senior debt" as (i) all indebtedness and obligations of, or guaranteed or assumed by, The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. that are for borrowed money or evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes or other similar instruments, whether existing now or in the future, (ii) obligations of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. that are similar to those in clause (i) above and arise from off-balance sheet guarantees and direct credit substitutes, and (iii) all obligations of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. associated with derivative products such as interest rate and foreign exchange contracts, commodity contracts and similar arrangements, and, in each case, all amendments, renewals, extensions, modifications and refundings of any indebtedness or obligations of that kind. Senior debt excludes the subordinated debt securities, including the subordinated notes offered hereby, and any other indebtedness or obligations specifically designated as being subordinate, or not superior, in right of payment to the subordinated debt securities.

The subordinated debt indenture provides that, unless all principal of and any premium or interest on the senior debt has been paid in full, no payment or other distribution may be made in respect of the subordinated notes in the following circumstances:

- in the event of any insolvency or bankruptcy proceedings, or any receivership, liquidation, reorganization, assignment for creditors or other similar proceedings or events involving us or our assets;
- (a) in the event and during the continuation of any default in the payment of principal, premium or interest on any senior debt beyond any applicable grace period or (b) in the event that any event of default with respect to any senior debt has occurred and is continuing, permitting the holders of that senior debt (or a trustee) to accelerate the maturity of that senior debt, whether or not the maturity is in fact accelerated (unless, in the case of (a) or (b), the payment default or event of default has been cured or waived or ceased to exist and any related acceleration has been rescinded) or (c) in the event that any judicial proceeding is pending with respect to a payment default or event of default described in (a) or (b); or
- in the event that any subordinated debt securities have been declared due and payable before their stated maturity.

Holders of the subordinated notes may be fully subordinated to interests held by the U.S. government or other creditors in the event that we enter into a receivership, insolvency, liquidation or similar proceeding.

If the trustee under the subordinated debt indenture or any holders of the subordinated debt securities receive any payment or distribution that is prohibited under the subordination provisions, then the trustee or the holders will have to repay that money to the holders of the senior debt.

Even if the subordination provisions prevent us from making any payment when due on the subordinated debt securities of any series we will be in default on our obligations under that series if we do not make the payment when due. This means that the trustee under the subordinated debt indenture and the holders of that series can take action against us, but they will not receive any money until the claims of the holders of senior debt have been fully satisfied.

The subordinated debt indenture allows the holders of senior debt to obtain a court order requiring us and any holder of subordinated debt securities to comply with the subordination provisions.

Table of Contents

The foregoing supersedes the information in “Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Default, Remedies and Waiver of Default” in the accompanying prospectus.

Redemption

Tax Redemption

We will have the option to redeem the subordinated notes before they mature (at par plus accrued and unpaid interest) if we become obligated to pay additional amounts because of changes in U.S. withholding tax requirements as described in the accompanying prospectus under “Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Redemption and Repayment — Tax redemption”. For purposes of the first paragraph under “Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Redemption and Repayment — Tax redemption”, the specified date (on or after which any such changes that may occur will give rise to our redemption right) is October 16, 2015.

Prior Federal Reserve Approval

Our ability to exercise the option to redeem the subordinated notes prior to their maturity date, in the circumstance described above, is subject to our first having received prior approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System to redeem the subordinated notes.

Book-Entry System

We will issue the subordinated notes as global notes registered in the name of DTC, or its nominee. The sale of the subordinated notes will settle in immediately available funds through DTC. You will not be permitted to withdraw the subordinated notes from DTC except in the limited situations described in the accompanying prospectus under “Legal Ownership and Book-Entry Issuance — What Is a Global Security? — Holder’s Option to Obtain a Non-Global Security; Special Situations When a Global Security Will Be Terminated”.

Investors may hold interests in a global note through organizations that participate, directly or indirectly, in the DTC system. See “Legal Ownership and Book-Entry Issuance” in the accompanying prospectus for additional information about indirect ownership of interests in the subordinated notes.

Our Relationship With the Trustee

An affiliate of the trustee under our subordinated debt indenture is acting as an underwriter in this offering. For additional information, see “Description of Debt Securities We May Offer — Our Relationship With the Trustee” in the accompanying prospectus.

Table of ContentsEMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT

This section is only relevant to you if you are an insurance company or the fiduciary of a pension plan or an employee benefit plan (including a governmental plan, an IRA or a Keogh Plan) proposing to invest in the subordinated notes.

The U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), prohibit certain transactions ("prohibited transactions") involving the assets of an employee benefit plan that is subject to the fiduciary responsibility provisions of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (including individual retirement accounts, Keogh plans and other plans described in Section 4975(e)(1) of the Code) (a "Plan") and certain persons who are "parties in interest" (within the meaning of ERISA) or "disqualified persons" (within the meaning of the Code) with respect to the Plan; governmental plans may be subject to similar prohibitions unless an exemption applies to the transaction. The assets of a Plan may include assets held in the general account of an insurance company that are deemed "plan assets" under ERISA or assets of certain investment vehicles in which the Plan invests. Each of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. and certain of its affiliates may be considered a "party in interest" or a "disqualified person" with respect to many Plans, and, accordingly, prohibited transactions may arise if the subordinated notes are acquired by or on behalf of a Plan unless those subordinated notes are acquired and held pursuant to an available exemption. In general, available exemptions are: transactions effected on behalf of that Plan by a "qualified professional asset manager" (prohibited transaction exemption 84-14) or an "in-house asset manager" (prohibited transaction exemption 96-23), transactions involving insurance company general accounts (prohibited transaction exemption 95-60), transactions involving insurance company pooled separate accounts (prohibited transaction exemption 90-1), transactions involving bank collective investment funds (prohibited transaction exemption 91-38) and transactions with service providers under Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code where the Plan receives no less and pays no more than "adequate consideration" (within the meaning of Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(f)(10) of the Code). The person making the decision on behalf of a Plan or a governmental plan shall be deemed, on behalf of itself and the plan, by purchasing and holding the subordinated notes, or exercising any rights related thereto, to represent that (a) the plan will receive no less and pay no more than "adequate consideration" (within the meaning of Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(f)(10) of the Code) in connection with the purchase and holding of the subordinated notes, (b) none of the purchase, holding or disposition of the subordinated notes or the exercise of any rights related to the subordinated notes will result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code (or, with respect to a governmental plan, under any similar applicable law or regulation), and (c) neither The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. nor any of its affiliates is a "fiduciary" (within the meaning of Section 3(21) of ERISA (or any regulations thereunder) or, with respect to a governmental plan, under any similar applicable law or regulation) with respect to the purchaser or holder in connection with such person's acquisition, disposition or holding of the subordinated notes, or as a result of any exercise by The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. or any of its affiliates of any rights in connection with the subordinated notes, and no advice provided by The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. or any of its affiliates has formed a primary basis for any investment decision by or on behalf of such purchaser or holder in connection with the subordinated notes and the transactions contemplated with respect to the subordinated notes.

If you are an insurance company or the fiduciary of a pension plan or an employee benefit plan (including a governmental plan, an IRA or a Keogh plan) and propose to invest in the subordinated notes described in this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus, you should consult your legal counsel.
