7 Year CNY Issuer Callable Fixed Rate Notes

Terms and Conditions

This document does not constitute, and under no circumstances should it be considered in whole or in part as, an offer, a solicitation or a recommendation to purchase, subscribe for, or sell, the notes referred to herein (hereafter the “Notes”).

The terms and conditions are indicative and may change with market fluctuations. Société Générale assumes no fiduciary responsibility or liability for any financial consequences or otherwise arising from the subscription or acquisition of the Notes. The investor should make its own appraisal of the risks and should consult to the extent necessary its own legal, financial, tax, accounting and other professional advisors in this respect prior to any subscription or acquisition. This document must be read in conjunction with the base prospectus dated 31 May 2023 (as amended from time to time, the “Base Prospectus” issued in relation to the Debt Instruments Issuance Programme. Additionally, investors should be aware that the Issuer may, at its discretion, redeem the Notes at Market Value prior to maturity upon notice to Noteholders under a variety of conditions and/or circumstances set forth in the General Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, which are part of the Base Prospectus. A copy of the Base Prospectus and the applicable Final Terms to be issued in relation to the Notes will be available from Société Générale upon request.

This is an offshore CNY denominated Note.

Please refer to the section titled, "Risk Factors" of the Base Prospectus for more details.

Secondary Market	Under normal market conditions, Société Générale or any of its affiliates intends to use reasonable endeavours to provide a secondary market on a daily basis during the life of the product starting from a minimum nominal amount of CNY 100,000 (i.e.10 Notes). "Dirty prices" (i.e. inclusive of accrued interest, if any) will be used for the price quotations. However, Société Générale or any of its affiliates makes no firm commitment to provide secondary market liquidity by continuously quoting bid and offer prices for the Notes,and assumes no legal obligation to provide any market making or to quote any bid or offer prices for the Notes. Therefore, potential investors may not be able to sell the Notes at a specific time or at a specific price. In special market situations, where Société Générale or any of its affiliates is completely unable to enter into hedging transactions, or where such hedging transactions are very difficult to enter into, no bid and offer prices will be quoted or the spread between the bid and offer prices may be substantially increased. Any valuation of the Notes may take into account (amongst others) the implied asset swap curve based on prices of senior unsecured bonds issued by Société Générale, as available in the market at such time of valuation.

(b) it has not issued or had in its possession for the purposes of issue, and will not issue or have in its possession for the purposes of issue, whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere, any advertisement, invitation or document relating to the Notes, which is directed at, or the contents of which are likely to be accessed or ready by, the public of Hong Kong (except if permitted to do so under the securities laws of Hong Kong) other than with respect to Notes which are or are intended to be disposed of only to persons outside Hong Kong or only to “professional investors” as defined in the SFO and any rules made under the SFO.

Hong Kong investor classification

IN HONG KONG, THIS PRODUCT IS ONLY AVAILABLE TO PROFESSIONAL INVESTORS AS DEFINED UNDER THE SECURITIES AND FUTURES ORDINANCE (CAP. 571, LAWS OF HONG KONG).

United States

The Notes described herein are not U.S. Exempt Securities. Accordingly, the Notes have not been registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 and may not be offered, sold, pledged or otherwise transferred at any time except in an “offshore transaction” (as defined under Regulation S) to or for the account or benefit of a Permitted Transferee. A “Permitted Transferee” means any person who: (a) is not a U.S. person as defined in Rule 902(k)(1) of Regulation S; and (b) is not a person who comes within any definition of U.S. person for the purposes of the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act (CEA) or any rule of the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC Rule), guidance or order proposed or issued under the CEA (for the avoidance of doubt, any person who is not a “Non-United States person” defined under CFTC Rule 4.7(a)(1)(iv), but excluding, for purposes of subsection (D) thereof, the exception for qualified eligible persons who are not “Non-United States persons,” shall be considered a U.S. person) and (c) is not a "U.S. Person" for purposes of the final rules implementing the credit risk retention requirements of Section 15G of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the U.S. Risk Retention Rules) (a Risk Retention U.S. Person). The Notes are available only to, and may only be legally or beneficially owned at any time, by Permitted Transferees.

By its purchase of a Note, each purchaser will be deemed or required, as the case may be, to make certain acknowledgements, representations and agreements set out in the Base Prospectus.

DISCLAIMERS

Limited Potential Gain:

The maximum potential gain in respect of the investment amount may be capped or limited.

Market Risk:

The product may at any time be subject to significant price movement which may in certain cases lead to the loss of the entire amount invested. Certain products may include embedded leverage, which amplifies the variation, upwards or downwards, in the value of the underlying instrument(s), which may result, in a worst case scenario, in the partial or total loss of the invested amount.

Credit risk:

Investors take a credit risk on Société Générale. Thus Société Générale’s insolvency may result in the partial or total loss of the invested amount. The market value of the product can decrease significantly below its nominal value as a result of Société Générale’s creditworthiness.

Liquidity Risk:

This product entails a materially relevant liquidity risk. Certain exceptional market circumstances may have a negative effect on the liquidity of the product. The investor may not be able to sell the product easily or may have to sell it at a price that significantly impacts how much he gets back, This may entail a partial or total loss of the invested amount.

Benchmarks:
Investors in floating rate Notes and/or Notes indexed on certain underlyings which are considered as benchmarks are exposed to the risk that : 1) such benchmarks may be subject to methodological or other changes which could affect their value, or 2) (i) such benchmark may become not compliant with applicable laws and regulations (such as the Regulation (EU) No. 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2016 (the Benchmarks Regulation)) ; (ii) such benchmark may cease to be published, or (iii) the supervisor or administrator of any such benchmark may make a statement that the relevant benchmark is no longer representative, and as a consequence the relevant benchmark may be replaced by another benchmark.

Events affecting the underlying instrument(s) or hedging transactions:

In order to take into account the consequences of certain events affecting the underlying instrument(s) on the product or hedging transactions, the product’s documentation provides for (a) mechanisms to adjust or substitute underlying instrument(s), (b) the deduction of the increased cost of hedging from any due amount, (c) monetization and accordingly, de-indexation of the pay-off formula for all or part of the amounts payable under the product from the underlying instrument(s), and (d) the early redemption of the product by the Issuer. Any of these measures may result in losses on the product, regardless of any principal repayment at maturity feature of the product.

Secondary Market Risk:

Where investors want to sell their Notes prior to the Maturity Date, the secondary market bid price, which reflects the market value of the Notes, may be substantially less than the capital invested.

Currency Exchange Risk:

When the underlying asset(s),and/or, in the case of an index or an asset basket, it contains components that, is/are quoted and/or expressed in a currency different from the specified currency of the Notes (Specified Currency), the value of the investment may increase or decrease as a result of the fluctuation of such currency against the Specified Currency, unless the product includes a currency exchange guarantee.

Settlement Risk:

Upon purchasing the Notes, the investor assumes all settlement risks relating to the Issuer failing to issue or settle the Notes on or about the Issue Date or the counterparty failing to settle the Notes on or about the settlement date.

Unless otherwise provided for:

(a) In the event that the Issuer fails to settle the Notes, the distributor will return the investment amount paid by the investor to the investor's account with the distributor, without liability for any interest or further payment to the investor;

(b) Investors should be aware that upon placing an order for the purchase of or otherwise subscribing to the Notes, the investor's account may be debited the investment amount (and any applicable fees and charges, as specified) and the date of debiting of funds may be on a date that is earlier than the applicable Trade Date. By agreeing to invest in the Notes, investors acknowledge that the distributor or any of their affiliates or subsidiaries shall not be liable to the investor for any interest or compensation otherwise for such authorized debits from the investor's account; and

(c) With respect to any early redemption or at maturity, funds accruing to the investor will be credited to the investor's account only after actual receipt and processing of cleared funds by the distributor from the Issuer. This process may result in a payment to the investor on a date subsequent to any stated date for redemption.

Conflict of Interest:

The valuation of a product may be linked to the spot price or the fixing of underlying financial instruments or other asset types (the "underlying assets"). At any time, Société Générale and its affiliates may trade in such underlying assets on own account or on behalf of their clients who may have similar or opposite interests to investor's own, or act, without limitation, as derivatives counterparty, hedging party, issuer, market maker, broker, structurer, advisor, distributor, placing agent, guarantor, asset manager, custodian or calculation agent in relation to such underlying assets, which might have an impact on such underlying assets' performance, liquidity or market value. Therefore, potential conflicts of interest may arise between the different divisions of Société Générale Group acting on such underlying assets on own account or on behalf of their clients, and investor's own. However, conflicts of interest are identified, prevented and managed in accordance with Société Générale's conflict of interest policy which summary has been communicated to the investor or is available upon request to his usual Société Générale contact.

Risk relating to unfavourable market conditions:

The fluctuations in the marked-to-market value of certain products may require the investor to make provisions or resell the products in whole or in part before maturity, in order to enable the investor to comply with its contractual or regulatory obligations. As a consequence, the investor may have to liquidate these products under unfavourable market conditions, which may result in the partial or total loss of the invested amount. This risk will be even higher if these products include leverage.

For products with no or partial principal repayment at maturity:

This is a capital at risk product. The redemption value of such products may be less than the amount initially invested. In a worst case scenario, investors could sustain the loss of their entire investment. Moreover, regardless the amount to be paid at maturity pursuant to the terms of the Notes, the investor may lose part or all of the initially invested amount before the maturity date, if the product is sold by the investor.

For products with Full Principal Repayment at Maturity:

For products which provide for a full repayment of principal at maturity, regardless of the structured repayment of 100% of the specified denomination at maturity, the investor may lose part or all of the initially invested amount before the maturity date, if the product is sold by the investor (since the value of the product during its lifetime may be lower than the amount of the repayment of principal at maturity due to market fluctuations).

Legal, tax and regulatory changes:

Legal, tax and regulatory changes could occur during the term of the Notes that may adversely affect the Notes, the underlying or related derivatives. The regulatory environment is evolving, and changes in the regulation of any entities may adversely affect their value. Regulators and self-regulatory organisations and exchanges are authorised to take extraordinary actions in the event of market emergencies. The regulation of securities and derivatives transactions is an evolving area of law and is subject to modification by government and judicial action. The effect of any future regulatory change on the underlying or related derivatives could be material, including clearing and margin requirements for derivatives and consequently may adversely affect the value of the Notes.

Bail-in:

The Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (BRRD) provides "Resolution Authorities" across the European Union with a comprehensive set of tools to deal with failing European financial institutions by using amongst other things the "bail-in". If the Issuer and/or the Guarantor (if applicable) becomes subject to resolution measures in the form of bail-in, investor's claim may be reduced to zero, converted into equity or its maturity may be postponed. This may result in losses on the invested amount, regardless of the repayment of principal at maturity feature of the product, if any.

Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986:

U.S. Treasury regulations issued under Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (Section 871(m) Regulations) generally impose a 30% withholding tax on dividend equivalents paid or deemed paid (within the meaning of the relevant Section 871(m) Regulations) to a non-United States holder (a Non-U.S. Holder), with respect to certain financial instruments linked to U.S. equities or indices that include U.S. equities (U.S. Underlying Equities). Specifically, Section 871(m) Regulations will generally apply to Notes issued on or after 1 January 2017 and that substantially replicate the economic performance of one or more U.S. Underlying Equity(ies) as determined by the Issuer on the date for such Notes as of which the expected delta of the product is determined by the Issuer based on tests in accordance with the applicable Section 871(m)

Regulations (for the purposes of the relevant notices, such Notes are deemed “delta-one” instruments) (Specified Notes). Notes linked to U.S. Underlying Equities which the Issuer has determined not to be a Specified Note will not be subject to withholding tax under Section 871(m) Regulations. If one or more of the U.S. Underlying Equities are expected to pay dividends during the term of the Specified Note, withholding generally will still be required even if the Specified Note does not provide for payments explicitly linked to dividends.

Investors are advised that in withholding this tax, the Issuer will regularly apply the general tax rate of 30% to the payments subject to U.S. provisions (or amounts deemed payments) without regard to any applicable treaty rate. Therefore, in such cases, an investor's individual tax situation will not be taken into account.

The applicable Final Terms will specify if the Notes are Specified Notes or Zero Estimated Dividends Securities. In the case of Notes that are Specified Notes, but not Zero Estimated Dividends Securities, the applicable Final Terms will specify whether the Issuer or its withholding agent will withhold tax under Section 871(m) Regulations and the rate of the withholding tax. In the case of Notes that are Zero Estimated Dividends Securities, the applicable Final Terms, will specify the rate of the withholding tax to be zero.

Investors are advised that the Issuer's determination is binding on all Non-U.S. Holders of the Notes, but it is not binding on the United States Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the IRS may therefore disagree with the Issuer’s determination.

The rules of Section 871(m) Regulations require complex calculations in respect of the instruments that include U.S. Underlying Equities and application of these rules to a specific issue of Notes may be uncertain. Consequently the IRS may determine they are to be applied even if the Issuer initially assumed the rules would not apply. There is a risk in such case that Noteholders are subject to withholding tax ex post.

As neither the Issuer nor the withholding agent will be required to gross up any amounts withheld in connection with a Specified Note, Noteholders will receive smaller payments in such case than they would have received without withholding tax being imposed.

Investors should consult their tax adviser regarding the potential application of Section 871(m) Regulations to their investment in the Notes.

Distributor's Undertaking:

The distributor undertakes that it will implement adequate policies and procedures on customer due diligence, which are in full compliance with: (a) all applicable laws and regulatory requirements in relation to the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing in the country of incorporation of the distributor; and (b) the recommendations of the Financial Action Task Force (“FATF”) on money laundering as updated from time to time.

Risks relating to Notes denominated in Renminbi (RMB)

A.RMB foreign exchange control risk

RMB is not completely freely convertible at present, and the conversion of RMB into other currencies is subject to exchange controls imposed by the PRC government. New PRC regulations may be promulgated or any existing RMB clearing and settlement arrangements may be terminated or amended in the future which may have the effect of restricting availability of RMB outside the PRC. The limited availability of RMB outside the PRC may affect the liquidity of Notes denominated in RMB.
The current size of RMB denominated financial assets outside the PRC is limited. The control of currency conversion and movements in RMB exchange rates may adversely affect RMB denominated assets which may in turn affect notes linked to such assets.

B. RMB currency risk

All payments of RMB under the Notes to the Noteholders will be made solely by transfer to a RMB bank account maintained in Hong Kong or a financial centre outside the PRC in which a bank clears and settles Renminbi (RMB Settlement Centre) in accordance with the prevailing rules and regulations and in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Notes. The Issuer cannot be required to make payment in relation to Notes denominated in RMB by any other means (including in any other currency or by transfer to a bank account in the PRC), unless a Renminbi Currency Event (i.e. if RMB becomes illiquid, or if any amount can no longer be converted into RMB or from RMB into another currency or if it becomes impossible to transfer amounts in RMB between accounts in Hong Kong or from within Hong Kong to accounts outside Hong Kong) is specified as being applicable in the applicable Final Terms.

I

n addition, there can be no assurance that the access to RMB for the purposes of making payments under the Notes or generally may remain or will not become restricted. If it becomes impossible to convert RMB from/to another freely convertible currency, or transfer RMB between accounts in Hong Kong (or any other RMB Settlement Centre), or to remit RMB into or out of the PRC, or the general RMB exchange market becomes illiquid, any payment of RMB under the Notes may be delayed or the Issuer may make such payments in another currency selected by the Issuer using an exchange rate determined by the Calculation Agent, or the Issuer may redeem the Notes by making payment in another currency.

C. RMB exchange rate risk

The value of RMB against other currencies fluctuates and is affected by changes in the PRC and international political and economic conditions and by many other factors. As a result, the value of any payments of RMB (in any applicable foreign currencies) may vary with the prevailing exchange rates in the marketplace. If the value of RMB depreciates against other currencies, the value of an investor's investment in such or other currencies will decline.

D. RMB interest rate risk

Where applicable, the value of payments of RMB under the Notes may be susceptible to interest rate fluctuations, including Chinese RMB Repo Rates and/or the Shanghai Interbank Offered Rate (SHIBOR). The PRC government has gradually liberalised the regulation of interest rates in recent years. Further liberalisation may increase interest rate volatility. Furthermore, due to the foreign exchange control imposed by the applicable PRC laws and regulations and the prevailing market conditions, the RMB interest rate in the markets outside the PRC may significantly deviate from the RMB interest rate in the PRC. (Required by HKMA circular “Selling or RMB Deposits, Investment and Insurance Products.)

E. Credit risk on issuers of underlying instrument

The investment may be linked to RMB debt instruments from other counterparties which are not supported by any collateral. As such, you may be fully exposed to the credit risk of those counterpart/counterparts. The investment may also be linked to derivative instruments from other counterparties. As the default by the derivative issuers may adversely affect the return and performance of the investment, you may be exposed to counterparty risk. (Required by HKMA circular “Selling or RMB Deposits, Investment and Insurance Products.)
